Who’s Running the Show?!
Effective Discipline for Positive Learning Environments
by Ronald Morrish, author, educator and behaviour specialist

We all want our schools to be positive learning environments with high expectations for student work and behaviour. But it is difficult to provide high quality curriculum and meet individual needs, while dealing with frequent disruptions and defiance.

Find out what it takes to build great discipline in your classroom and in your school. Learn the importance of adopting a positive approach to discipline and ensuring consistency across the school environments.

Ron is a very entertaining speaker who will provide a host of practical ideas for developing positive, respect-based behaviour in your students!
